Richard Goyder to present at SEPWA's Harvest Review on February 15

High profile businessman, Richard Goyder will be the keynote speaker at SEPWA's annual Harvest Review next month. The theme of the event will be: "Where's our next step up in profit?"

Richard Goyder is one of Australia's most respected businessmen and is currently Chairman of Woodside, Qantas Airways, the Australian Football League Commission, Channel 7 Telethon Trust, JDRF Australia and the WA Symphony Orchestra. He worked for Wesfarmers Ltd for 24 years and was Managing Director and CEO from 2005 to late 2017.

Mr Goyder was born and raised on a farm in Tambellup and Broomehill and believes rural WA and agriculture are a vital part of our State's economy. He will discuss his life and where he sees the future gains for agriculture coming from.

Other topics to focus on will include technology, agronomy, farming systems and business management.

The free all-day event will be at the Esperance Bay Yacht Club and will conclude with a sundowner in the Cliff's room. The day is open to SEPWA members and non-members and is sponsored by GrainGrowers and the Grains Research and Development Corporation (GRDC).

More information is available on the SEPWA website: www.sepwa.org.au.

PIC: Richard Goyder will provide the key note address at SEPWA's Harvest Review on February 15.
